

UX/UI Designer

ABOUT US

Blackbullion is an edtech innovator on a mission to make the world money smart. Our elearning platform is raising financial education standards across higher education and we exist at the intersection of fintech, edtech and big data.

We are deployed on campuses across the UK and now Australia and almost 1m students have access. We are growing and expanding our team and are now looking for a UX/UI Designer

THE ROLE

We are looking for an someone who is able to understand our business requirements and any technical limitations, as well as be responsible for managing the end to end design process; from independently conducting user research, interviews and surveys, through translating them into sitemaps, user flows, customer journey maps, wireframes, mockups and prototypes and working with the development team to deliver updates to our clients and end users.

You will also be responsible for managing the overall visual language of our products and will also need to solve difficult visual design problems that arise during the implementation of new features.

You will be an early member of the product & technology team and will play a crucial role in developing methods to understand and measure the ongoing success of our products

REQUIREMENTS

- To fit into our awesome team you must have self-drive and motivation and believe in the transformative power of education.
- You must be comfortable in a fast moving, dynamic startup environment.
- Significant commercial experience working as a UX designer on cross-platform digital products.
- Proven ability of wireframing, producing concept sketches, user flows, storyboards and hi/lo-fi prototypes
- An ability to analyze user data and create actual product insights

- Working knowledge of UX tools (Sketch, Photoshop, Invision Marvel, Principle etc)
- High level proficiency in user research and usability testing
- Strong analytical, problem solving, and critical thinking skills
- An online portfolio showcasing your previous designs and processes
- Up-to-date knowledge of the latest UI trends, techniques, and technologies
- Experience in the fields of edtech or fintech would be very relevant to this role but are not necessary.
